Dear Friend:

As we begin 2007, Louisiana families and communities face many challenges and opportunities.

It is important that we all work together to improve our communities and make them even better places to raise our families.

This year, Congress will be considering legislation that will affect families and seniors in our communities. As your representative in Congress, I will always vote with your interests in mind.

I want to hear from you on what issues are most important to you and your family. That is why my staff will be available during office travel hours across Southwest Louisiana so they can hear from you, and learn how we can help.

A list of when and where these meetings will occur is on the inside of this mailer.

As always, I am here for you. If you need to reach me please contact one of my offices listed on this mailing, or come by one of the office travel hours and let us know how I can help you.

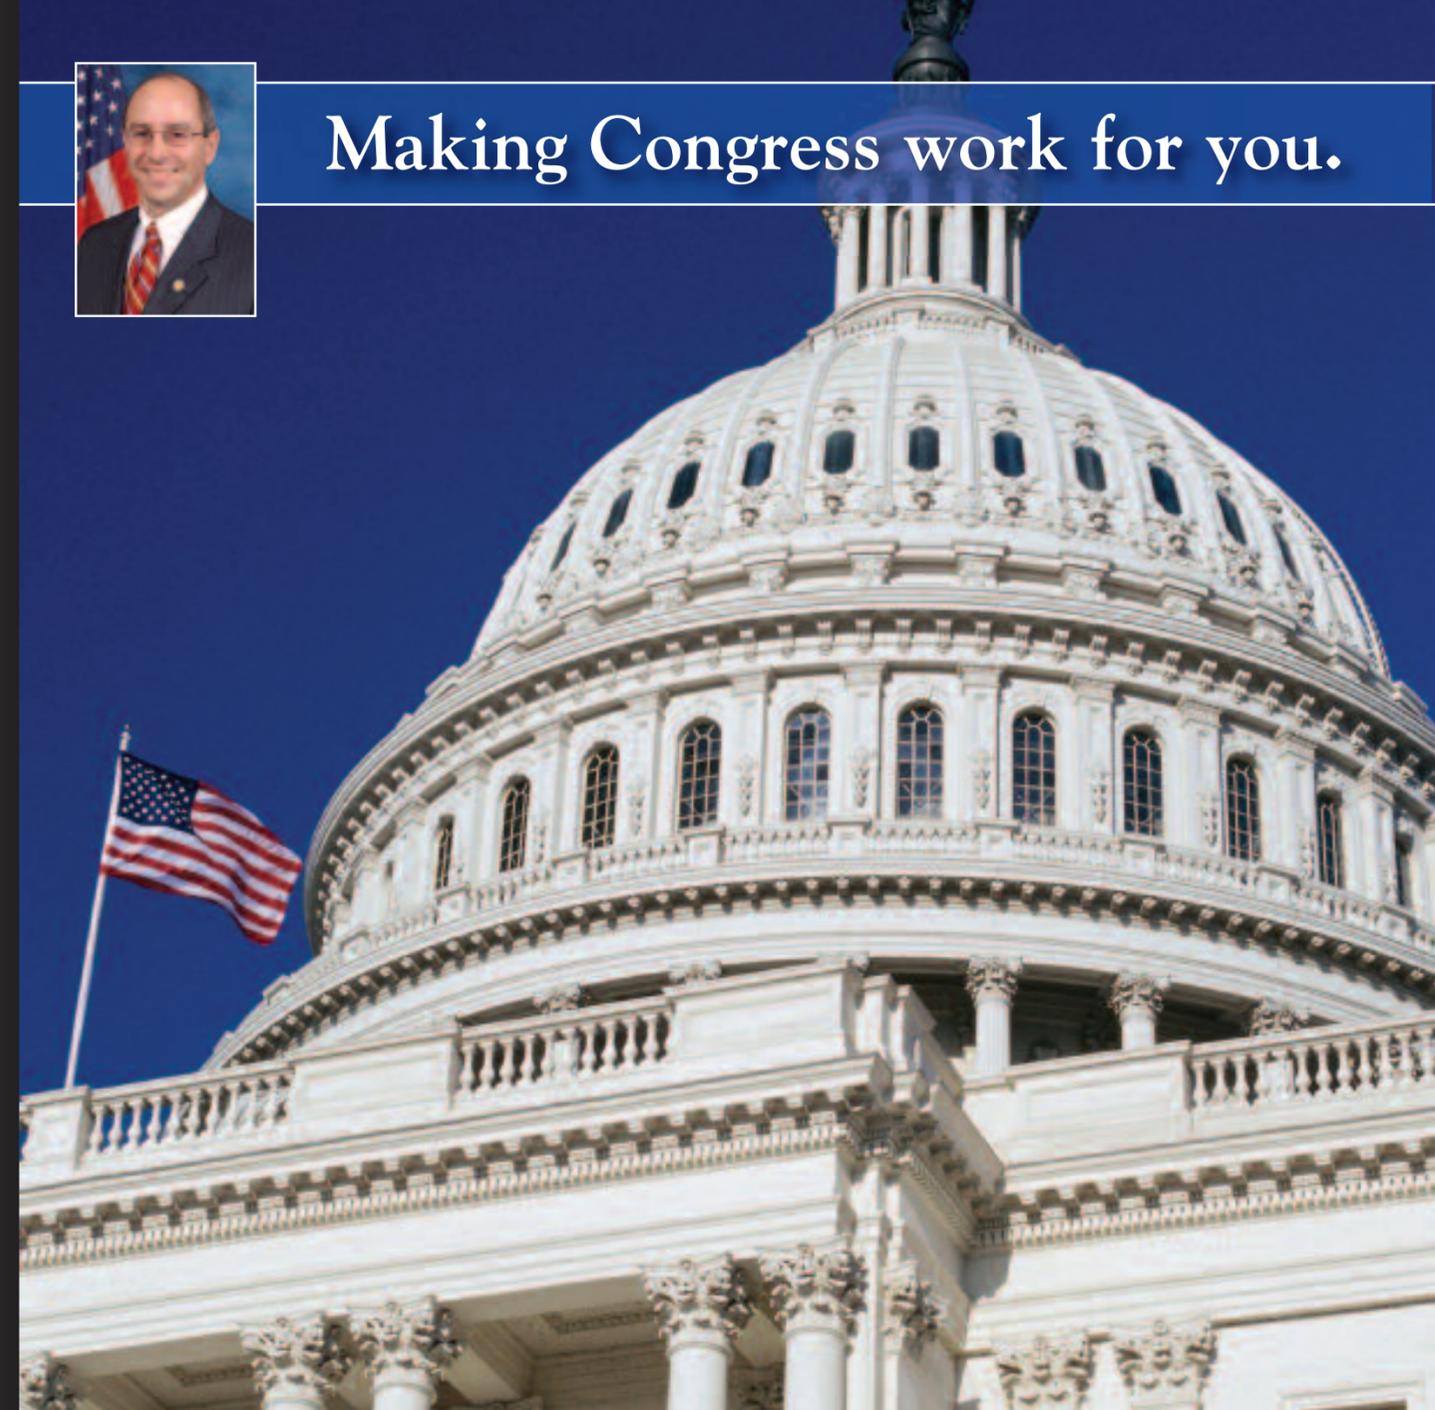

Sincerely,
